Manish Kanodia

One thing that separates Edha from other is being a property advisor rather than a property agent. Special mention to Piyush who has a holistic view and knowledge of real estate market . As an advisor cum consultant he firsts understand the needs , budget , requirements and then suggests options rather the other way round which is pushing for what is available. He is always available at disposal and always strive for perfection in whatever he does. I am associated with him for more than 2 years now and highly recommend for his great service.

Ashima Singh
